Wrest: ART B37: Survey of Latin American Art

Professor Sondra Keckley, Reference Librarian
Research Requirements

• Analysis of Latin American or Pre-Columbian artwork.
• Be specific with topic you choose.
• Need a thesis statement.
• Must have 4 or more sources that are either books, academic journal articles, or reputable websites.
• Websites may not be online encyclopedias, wikis, or art blogs.
• May use MLA, Chicago Style, or basic footnote citation formatting for paper and source citations.
The Research Process
First Step: Brainstorm Ideas & Outline Your Existing Knowledge of the Topic

- Doesn’t have to be a formal outline.
“You have a working knowledge of a topic when you can talk about it for one minute without repeating yourself.”
(Research Strategies, Badke, 2008, p.21)

• Read material that will give you a broader picture of the topic.

Reference Books

• Examples: encyclopedia, dictionary, almanac, atlas, directory, handbook, thesaurus.
• Gives overview or background info on a topic.
• Quick access to facts.
• Not read cover to cover.
• Can’t be checked out.
• Found in bookcases with green labels.

Some examples...
Keep Going!

• As you learn more, you should be asking more questions.
• Pick one of your questions to explore in depth, and that could have more than one answer/point of view.
• This should help you focus in and narrow down your topic.

Narrowing a Topic

• Is there a specific time period you want to cover?
• Is there a geographic region or country on which you would like to focus?
• Is there a particular aspect of this topic that interests you?
  • historical influence, sociological aspects, specific groups or individuals involved in the topic, etc.

(Adapted from www.lib.duke.edu/libguide/refining.htm)
Examples of How to Narrow a Topic

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Narrow Topic By</th>
<th>General</th>
<th>Specific</th>
<th>More Specific</th>
<th>Very Specific</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Time</td>
<td>Sports</td>
<td>Basketball</td>
<td>NBA</td>
<td>Changes in the NBA since the 1960s</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Location</td>
<td>Mammals</td>
<td>African mammals</td>
<td>Big cat mammals in Africa</td>
<td>The Cheetah’s future in Kenya</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Genre</td>
<td>Music</td>
<td>Rock &amp; Roll</td>
<td>Early rock &amp; roll artists</td>
<td>Elvis Presley’s influence on rock &amp; roll</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Area of study</td>
<td>Medicine</td>
<td>Development of antibiotics</td>
<td>Use of antibiotics in preventing Polio</td>
<td>Dr. Salk’s contribution to Polio prevention</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Note that each broad topic is narrowed until a manageable research topic is clarified. The last column can be turned into your paper’s ESSENTIAL QUESTION.
Let’s Recap…
• Pre-research and narrowing down your topic.

Pre-Research Video
Once you have determined your essential question you will need to answer it in the form of a thesis statement.

A thesis statement expresses the main idea of your paper.

It should state the topic and describe your position in third person.

A well-written thesis statement has two parts:
1. The answer to your essential question (your position).
2. Your reasons.

Everything in your paper should support your position.
My Essential Question:
Should smoking be banned in public places?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Part One</th>
<th>Part Two</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>The answer to your essential question.</td>
<td>Your reasons.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Smoking should be banned in public places</td>
<td>because it jeopardizes the health of nonsmokers</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Working Thesis:

Smoking should be banned in public places because it jeopardizes the health of nonsmokers.
I Have a Thesis...Now What?

• To defend your thesis, you need research to back up your reasons (supporting arguments).

• Make sure to acknowledge the other point of view, as well.

How to Develop Keywords/Search Terms

• Find key words or phrases in your paper’s essential question.
  • The word or words that the question is about.
  • The important words related to your topic.

• Example: How does someone’s poverty level affect their access to higher education?
  • What are the important words?

  How does someone’s poverty level affect their access to higher education?
How to Develop Keywords/Search Terms

• Next you will develop a list of synonyms for these key words/ phrases.

• What are words we could use for higher education?

  college, university, post-secondary education
Let’s See It In Action...

Keywords Video
How to Develop Keywords/Search Terms

• But what if the author uses colleges or universities?

• Truncation
  • Truncate = to shorten or take off at the end
  • Use * (Shift 8)

  college and colleges ---------------- college* university and universities ---------------- universit*
Boolean Operators

AND
Finds information about both terms
Narrows your search
Makes your search more relevant

OR
Finds information about either term
Broadens your search

NOT
Excludes information from your search
Possible Subject Headings

• The library on-line catalog uses specific labels for subject headings/topics. It is expecting you to use those search terms.
• Refer to the LibGuide to get ideas of subject headings to use as search terms for this project.

What Are Databases?
What Are Databases?

- Databases are searchable collections of reliable, vetted resources, like encyclopedias, magazines, academic journals, and newspapers.
- Not part of the visible Internet—Google doesn’t have access to these articles.
- We pay for access to the servers that host the database search-engines.
